BRITISH STAND AT WEST FRONT BY THE FRENCH NOW RELIEVED

Declared That Briton Defense Is One of Most Gallant In History
HUN LOSSES SAID TO BE A HALF MILLION
British Casualties Admitted to "Be High;" Crisis Believed Passed

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The French are striving hard to relieve the terrible pressure on their British comrades in arms to the north.

Military men say this is the latest French move in the Amiens sector, but up to early today this had not developed sufficiently to make a radical change.

With the French battling shoulder to shoulder with the British in the north, other French forces in the Avre region have succeeded in a counter attack. United Press messages from Henry Wood yesterday, detailing the artillery struggle, indicated the French were testing out the lines for a weak spot, while today's news indicated they had succeeded in a small way against the enemy.

Wonderful Defense
The British defense to date is considered one of the most stubborn and gallant in all history.

Entente officials here said frankly today that had the British not stood and died at critical times, the struggle might have ended ere now in a Teuton victory. The British, they said, had yielded only where further sacrifice of life would have netted little. Literally they have died to the last man at many points to stem the Teuton.

The German has sacrificed heavily in his onslaughts. Military men estimate that 400,000 to 500,000 Teuton casualties have resulted thus far. The British losses, too, are heavy.

Up to French
Military men find some satisfaction in the fact that the British have held well for two days and there is hope now that the French will be able to create a diversion in the southern end of the line.

Secretary of War Baker's letter to General Pershing, promising speeding of troops, prefigures a continuance of the policy of getting over all possible men in the shortest possible time by acquiring added shipping. Allied sources explained today that various times in the past few months the western demands had required priority of food, then of material, but that now the men must and do have the priority.

Press dispatches quoting German Naval Minister von Capette on the submarine situation showed that Germany is belittling and underestimating American power as to troop supply and deliberately misinforming the German people as to the facts which they must face.

CALIFORNIA SALESMAN SENTENCED TO PRISON

RED LODGE, Mont., April 19.—Ben Kahn, a salesman for a California wine house, faces seven and a half years in the penitentiary as a result of being convicted of sedition after a jury had deliberated 36 hours.

Kahn, who during his trial made violent protestations of loyalty to America, was charged with having said that the sinking of the Lusitania was justified and that the present war was a "rich man's war."

BOLSHEVIK FURNISHES GERMANS WITH POWDER

NEW YORK, April 19.—Hudson Maxim, inventor, declares today he believed that some of the vast amount of ammunition being consumed by the Germans on the west front was supplied them by the Bolsheviks.

ONE OF MOST HISTORIC CITIES Rheims Destroyed IN ALL EUROPE NOW IN RUINS

PARIS, April 19.—Rheims is completely in ruins as a result of the German bombardment. During the past week 100,000 enemy shells, including incendiary projectiles, have fallen within the city. One day alone 30,000 shells were thrown.

The city is now a wilderness of scorched and blackened stones, with a few ghostly remains of houses rising from the stifling fumes. Streets have vanished under the shattered walls.

The Place Royale theater and the Law Courts, like the ancient hotels, historic salons and the Maison de Musiciens, are a mass of embers. The arched roofs of the famous cathedral are splitting and crumbling. Soon only the pillars will remain.

One of the most historic and picturesque cities in Europe has thus been effaced by German frightfulness. Rheims had a population of more than 100,000 before the war. It was once a stronghold of the Romans and preserved much of the Roman architecture, including a beautiful triumphal arch. On the site of the former Roman fortifications fine boulevards were built.

The Rheims cathedral was one of the largest and most wonderful specimens of Gothic architecture in the world. It was built during the 13th century. It had a facade containing the famous "rose window" and 500 statues. Its portals were richly adorned with sculptures. In this cathedral the French kings were crowned.

Next in importance to the cathedral was the large eleventh century abbey church of St. Remy. Other structures were the archbishop's Episcopate palace, dating from the 15th century, in which was located a museum of sculpture, and the Hotel De Ville, containing a public museum and library of more than 80,000 volumes.

Rheims is less than three miles back of the French lines.

HANGING OF MINER BLAMED TO QUARREL

Investigators Say Praeger Death Not Because of Pro-German Talk
CHICAGO, April 19.—That Robert Praeger, the Collinsville, Ill., miner, was lynched not because of his pro-German sympathies but as a result of a quarrel with miners at Maryville, was the belief of Atty. Gen. Edw. J. Brundage today. He has received a complete report to this effect from his investigators.

The Madison county grand jury is now in session and indictment of those connected with the lynching are expected soon.

"I am certain of the indictments and I am certain we will obtain convictions," said Brundage.

FOCH INTIMATES AN EARLY REVERSAL ON THE FLANDERS FRONT

MILAN, Italy, April 19.—"We hold the boche waves, but that is not sufficient—we will do something more," General Foch is quoted as saying in an interview published by the Gorriere Della Serra today.

ALLIED AIR FORCE PROVING ITS SUPREMACY WITH DAILY SUCCESS

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Three enemy planes have been downed for every Allied airplane lost in the west, an official dispatch received here today.

Enemy planes are brought down each day by the score and nearly 100,000 pounds of explosives are dropped on the enemy organizations behind their lines. On March 26 not less than 56 hostile aviators were brought down and 24 were obliged to retreat. On March 27, 80 airplanes used more than a quarter of a million

OFFICIALS TO CONFER SOON ON DECISION

Pacific Must Submit Plans Before Interrupting Service Now Existing

BUSINESS PHONES
Following are the present and proposed phone rates, the latter being granted by the Railroad Commission in the merger. The first figures are the present and the last the new:

One party—wall, $2.50, $2.50; desk, $2.50, $2.75.
Two party—wall, $2.00, $2.00; desk, $2.25, $2.25.
Suburban—wall, $1.50, $3.00; desk, $1.75, $3.25.
RESIDENCE PHONES
One party—wall, $2.00, $2.00; desk, $2.00, $2.25.
Two party—wall, $1.50, $1.75; desk, $1.75, $2.00.
Four party—wall, $1.25, $1.50; desk, $1.50, $1.75.
Suburban—wall, $1.50, $3.50; desk, $1.75, $2.75.

While the Railroad Commission has authorized the merging of the Home and Pacific telephone systems in this county and has authorized the charging of minimum rates as established under a schedule of the commission, the end is not yet—it is not known what the free toll area situation will be until the Pacific has filed with the commission a plan setting out fair and logical exchange areas. The present rates are effective until the plan is submitted to and approved by the commission. The rates at the head of this article are the present and proposed rates, the latter being effective when the commission approves the final plan of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company for operating in this county.

The findings of the commission were received here last evening by Walter Eden, chairman of the Associated Chamber of Commerce committee appointed to oppose the increase in rates. The county has lost out in the matter of its fight against the increase, and while the commission eliminates free toll areas, the company plan may be such as to retain some of the present free service.

There is nothing in the decision to confirm the report that free switching privileges between Orange and Santa Ana are to remain in force. Neither is there anything that suggests the free service will be withdrawn—except in the general order that free toll areas be eliminated. The commission undoubtedly anticipates action by the telephone company that will continue some of the free areas, the anticipation being indicated by instructions to submit plans before interrupting present conditions.

Officials Will Confer
C. F. Mason, division superintendent of the Pacific, in a long distance interview this morning, stated that he had not as yet seen the report of the commission and that there had been no conference of officials as yet. A conference probably will be held within the next few days, when a decision will be reached as to adjustments in this county.

"There may be some points in the county where we may consider logical free toll zones," said Mason. "We might consider Orange and Santa Ana or Santa Ana and Tustin, or Anaheim and Fullerton as proper territory for the free service, but of course I am not in a position to give any definite answer at this time, and won't be until a conference is held."

The report says specifically that "there seems to be no justification for the imposition of separate exchange areas between Tustin and Santa Ana, and there may be other instances" where separation would not be justified.

In the San Bernardino district, the Pacific is to acquire all the property of the Home outside of the city of San Bernardino, and the Home takes over the business of the Pacific in the

BRITISH LINE IN FLANDERS LITTLE CHANGED TODAY; HUN PRESSURE IS STILL STRONG

Few New Developments Mark Warfare In North Flanders During the Night; Reports Indicate That Only Result of Hindenburg Drive at Present Is Increasing Casualty List.

LONDON, April 19.—While the British, aided by French reserves are holding the Germans on the Flanders front, the French have gained ground along the Avre, south-east of Amiens, by a heavy counter attack on a front of more than two miles. This attack, the French communique said, carried the French to the outskirts of Castel.

Haig's night report described "severe fighting" on a greater part of the Lys front. Enemy attacks were repulsed from the La Basse canal to Givency and east of St. Venant. Attacks south of Kemmel also were broken down.

The German war office said the situation in Flanders was "unchanged." Regarding the French advance on the Avre, the enemy claimed that "strong French attacks northwest of Moreuil broke down with sanguinary losses."

BULLETINS

ITALIAN TROOPS NOW WITH ALLIES IN FRANCE

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Italian troops are now in France preparing to fight with the Allied armies.

A "considerable force" has been moved and more probably will be sent, it was stated today. The advance guard reached France "some days ago," it was stated.

BACK AGAINST WALL, HAIG WILL FIGHT TO FINISH

AN ATLANTIC PORT, April 19.—Germany will launch another offensive in June, either on the west front or in Italy, if the present drive is checked, according to Lieutenant General Bridges of the British army, who arrived here today.

"The Allies are up against an acute crisis, and although we may check the German offensive now, a series of crises will continue all through the coming year," he declared.

"We must not expect anything final from the present offensive. If the German is halted, he will dig himself in, preparatory to another drive.

"The war has now resolved itself into a question of man power. The Germans are striving for a decision before we can draw our trump card—the American army. The Kaiser is prepared to make any sacrifice.

"Circumstances have compelled the Teuton to make the present drive. They have backed the British to a point where they can no longer retreat. With its back to the wall you can look for Haig's army to fight it out to the finish."

TWO MILLION IN ARMY THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The quartermaster general's department is preparing equipment for an army of two million five hundred thousand in the field or training camps by the end of 1918 it developed today.

The house military committee which met with the war department officials today received a summary of the estimate.

MORE MARINES NEEDED ABROAD

WASHINGTON, April 19.—General Pershing has sent over a call for more American marines.

As a result, the house military committee today voted to increase the corps from 30,000 to 75,000, so the marines in stations here may be sent abroad. The committee originally granted an increase to 50,000, but Pershing's call asked for 25,000 more.

With warning from members of the naval affairs committee that a grave emergency exists, the house prepared to rush the bill through within 48 hours.

Enemy Backed
The enemy was pushed back and the French established themselves in the outskirts of Castel, a mile and a half south of Thennes. This is at the point of the closest approach of the Germans at Amiens, a distance of eight miles and a half.

The fighting in Flanders Thursday appeared to result from an effort by Hindenburg to seize the strong defensive position along the La Basse canal, near Givency, so he might establish himself firmly here and protect his left flank while he pushed westward toward Hazebrouck. His attempt completely failed.

The British retirement east of Ypres—the extent of which has been vague—now seems to have been explained by the German war office. Berlin announced that the British have been driven behind the Steenbeke. This small stream flows into the St. Jean river at the town of that name, a mile east of Bixschote. Its course extends in a comparatively straight line between St. Jean and St. Julien, a distance of about three miles and a half in a line from northwest to southeast.

At St. Julien the Steenbeke is formed by the junction of two branches of the Hannebeck creek. The western branch rises about a mile and a half south of Zonnebeke and flows northwestward to St. Julien.

STAND OF FOCH IN HOLDING UP RESERVE FORCE BELIEVED BEST

As Long As British Can Hold Line, Reserves Will Be

MEANS DECISIVE DEFEAT TO HINDENBURG'S PLAN

At Present Time Enemy Is Killing Men By Hundreds

BY J. W. T. MASON
(Written for the United Press)
NEW YORK, April 19.—Further stiffening of the British front justifies General Foch's reluctance to use up a large part of his reserves in defensive fighting to protect Ypres and Hazebrouck.
If von Hindenburg's bloody effort to reach channel ports can be permanently checked without disturbing the Allies' reserves, the Germans will have met one of the most serious defeats of the war. It will mean that Hindenburg has failed to compel Foch to accept the German conditions for an Allied offensive. This questionably is the reason why Foch is showing such persistent refusal to employ his reserves along the northern end of the battle front.

It is unreasonable to expect Foch to develop at this time so overwhelming a counter offensive as would force
the Germans back to the positions
they occupied before the present drive began. When the Germans started their advance four weeks ago, they were fresh and had spent all winter preparing their plans and accumulating vast stores of munitions.
The Allies are now weakened because of their defensive fighting and have shot away a large part of their reserve ammunition.

A Useless Time
For Foch to use his reserves now for offensive purposes would be to attempt to drive the Germans back while the Allies have probably not more than 50 per cent of their maximum offensive efficiency. To take the offensive about Ypres and Hazebrouck

GAVE UP HER HOME TO WAR WOUNDED

COUNTESS OF ONSLOW

Not only her home in London, but her time and service has been the Countess of Onslow given to the wounded soldiers who fought the fight of liberty in northern France.
Before the war the countess's parties, and her hours with social affairs. But not so now. The home has been turned into a hospital, and the mistress of the mansion finds time only for the wounded men of war.

would mean for Foch as heavy a price in casualties for meager gains as Hindenburg is now paying. This would suit Hindenburg admirably. He could then turn to the German people and declare that the Allies' reserves had been enticed into battle at the farthest point away from German territory, and at a time when the Allies' efficiency was far from its potential maximum.

Hindenburg recently said a battle is a living thing that takes time to develop. Foch understands quite well that this maxim holds true also,
for a counter offensive.

KAISER'S SUBMARINES NOT DOING DAMAGE PRESS AGENT SAYS

NEW YORK, April 19.—Camouflaging submarine tolls is becoming increasingly more difficult for the German admiralty, according to reports from the British war office received today.

From a monthly exaggeration of 46
per cent a year ago, the German admirality boosted its sinkings by 113 per cent in January, as the actual sinkings decreased, the exaggeration increased,
the reports show.

German papers carrying official reports declared that the under-sea craft destroyed more than 12,000,000 tons of the world's shipping during the past twelve months. British official figures show half that amount. The average exaggeration of the German admiralty and press during the past year was 46 per cent.

Actual Losses

Last September actual losses were 340,000 tons; German claims were 680-
000 tons.

November, actual losses 295,000;
German claims 605,000 tons; December actual losses 330,000 tons; German claims 705,000 tons; January, actual sinkings 295,000 tons; German claims
630,000 tons.

The highest point in sinkings since Germany's unrestricted campaign began was 870,000 tons. The Teuton admirality claimed destruction of 1,900-000 tons the same month. The lowest month probably will be April, the submarines having sunk but 81,600 tons
thus far this month. For the last quarter of the year ending February 1 the world's losses were 980,000 tons, compared with a loss of 2,040,000 tons for the first three months of Germany's campaign.

threw him and his two sons into the

DRIVING RAIN DOESN'T HALT HUN OFFENSIVE

Germans Kept Up Pressure on Lys Front Yesterday
Despite Squall

PRISONERS SAY ARMY IS GIVEN POOR FOOD

Surprised at Manner In Which Allies' Troops Are Fed
and Clothed

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FLANDERS, April 19.—Through rain
squalls and a cutting northeaster, the Germans kept up their pressure on the Lys front yesterday.

Evidence of the importance Hindenburg attaches to the hills southwest of Ypres is shown in the presence of the 117th and 11th Bavarian corps and Alpine corps in the sector from Mount Kemmel to Baillieu (a front of three miles). Every man of these units is from the German hill country, and Von Bernhardt, who is in command from Wyttschaete to Baillieu, is known as a hill fighter.

The assault south of the Nieppe forest reveals the necessity for the Germans enlarging the salient of the main enemy thrust toward Hazebrouck.
Prisoners declare the cross fire of the British guns create a bulge in the salient before St. Venant, inflicting heavy casualties there.

Prisoners Surprised
The German troops, themselves
underfed, are surprised at the quantity and quality of captured British food, which constitutes the only decent rations they have had in many months.
The promise of more similar food is a spur to the Germans. This is illustrated in a letter taken from a captured officer of the Alpine corps, in which he said:

"If we advance we will surely take enough booty. We have made up our minds now to plunder ruthlessly. That is the beauty of the whole thing. We Alpiners understand our business."

Ten British tanks started an offensive of their own yesterday but the frightened Germans sent up red rockets when they saw the machines and German artillery pounded its own troops, scattering them everywhere.

The general situation is unchanged.
Further heavy fighting is coming.

LOS ANGELES.—Rather than live with her soldier husband, Grace M.
Wilson, 16 years old and a wife for only a few months, attempted suicide yesterday at her home, 809 West Fourth street. Following a stormy interview with her mother, who, it is said, threatened to kill herself unless the daughter would live with a man
she was forced to marry, the young girl swallowed several ounces of poison. She was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where the doctors succeeded in saving her from death.

PASADENA.—Two brothers of Mrs.
George Lingren, who lives at Fig street and Kirkwood avenue, were aboard the missing collier Cyclops.
She last heard from them under date of March 3, but the postmark, which she knows to be some South American port, was so badly blurred that she could not read it.

FIRE THREATENED GROVE CHURCH LAST NIGHT

GARDEN GROVE, April 19.—Members at the Baptist church in attendance at the prayer meeting had to quit their service in order to fight a fire that threatened the church building. J. Smith set fire in the evening to brush in the eucalyptus grove at the corner of Fourth and Stanford

ing from the northeast the fire got away from him. The fighters kept the flames from crossing the street.
No damage resulted beyond the burning of a few trees in the grove.

ORANGE THEFT CASES ARE DISMISSED BY JUSTICE COX

The prosecution of Kane Stamon and Mrs. Florence Seidel upon charges of stealing oranges from C. A. Palmer of Olive went on the rocks yesterday when Palmer gave his testimony. The charge of felony against Stamon, who was charged with a previous conviction of petty larceny, and the charge of petty larceny against Mrs. Seidel were both dismissed.

The complaints were sworn to by City Marshal Warner of Orange. It was understood that Palmer had seen a man and a woman in his orchard. That proved not to be the case. Palmer said that someone had taken three boxes of oranges from picked boxes, put them in sacks and carried the sacks over beside the road. He found them there the same morning that Stamon was arrested upon the road not far away. The theory of the officers was that Stamon was trying to turn his machine around in the road to go to where the oranges were left, when the machine went into the ditch. There was no evidence to connect Stamon with Palmer's oranges. In fact Palmer could not positively identify the oranges found in the sacks as his oranges. Taken back to the boxes they filled the three boxes exactly.

Deputy District Attorney Koepsel did not oppose the motion of Attorney J. C. Burke and Hahn for the dismissal of the two cases, and Justice Cox ordered the dismissals. The matter was up yesterday upon Stamon's preliminary examination.

When Stamon was caught coming out of a La Habra grove three weeks ago, a charge of vagrancy was put against him. At that time he had no oranges. After the dismissal of the case yesterday, trial of the vagrancy case was set for April 26, and Stamon put up $200 cash bail.

A complaint charging him with operating an automobile without having a driver's license was brought. Stamon pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $10.

M'KEE CHANGES PLEA TO GUILTY, IS ASKING ORDER OF PROBATION

This morning Harry McKee, charged with burglarizing near Huntington Beach, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty, and asked for probation. McKee's plea for probation is to be heard by Judge West on April 26 at 9 a. m. McKee is accused of stealing fourteen sacks of lima beans. The officers say he broke into U. H. Plavan's barn, took out a team and a wagon and hauled the beans to Los Angeles.

KEENE AND ELGAR TO BE RE-SENTENCED 26TH

This morning F. W. Keene and Jim Elgar were before Judge West. They were brought back from San Quentin to be re-sentenced, Keene for burglary and Elgar for a felony involving a step-daughter. Keene is going to ask for probation. Judge West set April 26 as the time for determination of the two men's sentences. Each went to San Quentin upon an indeterminate sentence, and each has been brought back because of a supreme court decision under which each is to be given a definite sentence.

One of the jurors who sat in the trial of the action brought by J. T. Raitt against C. F. Heil stated today that the jury stood eight to four in favor of giving a verdict in favor of Heil. Head and R. Y. Williams. The action concerned the differences of Raitt and Heil in the old Aliso Dairy company in 1914.

KETTNER HERE ON BRIEF STOP

Friends Who Saw San Diego Man Say He Is Going to Run Again

William Kettner, congressman from this district, was in Santa Ana for about two hours last night, and the Democrats who saw him say they haven't the slightest doubt but that he is going to run for the office again.

Kettner told them that he was not going to make any announcement until June.

The congressman was here on a brief business trip from Washington. He stopped but a day or two at San Diego, and was returning when he stopped off here. Today he is at the aviation field at Riverside.

While in Santa Ana, Congressman Kettner went to the home of Mrs. G. R. Smith, mother of United States Senator William Alden Smith, hoping to find the senator there. However, the senator was out of town.

"I am sorry to hear that Senator Smith has concluded not to run again," said Congressman Kettner. "His loss in the Senate is going to be a real loss to Michigan, for Senator Smith has made a fine senator for that state, and for the country."

While here, Congressman Kettner took dinner with Postmaster C. D. Overshiner and County Assessor James Sleeper.

DOES THIS GIANT GORILLA PROVE MR. DARWIN CORRECT?

Darwin, a scientist, gained his niche in Fame's hall by saying we are descended from the ape. Another scientist says that apes originally were born of prehistoric women.

It is yours to choose a theory, for Sells-Floto, which comes to Santa Ana April 29, presents Colossus, the gigantic gorilla-man, the mystery of the world of scientific research. If he is not a "missing link," a gorilla, he must be a kin to man. If he is not a kin to man, he must certainly be the most powerful of beasts.

Colossus is strength, power, force, brutal energy. His skin is hairy and his hide is as tough as that of the hippo.

The giraffe is of majestic height and is graceful. So is Colossus. But the giraffe has little power in comparison with his great stature. Colossus weighs 300 pounds. He is but twice the size of a robust human being, but he has twenty times the strength of an athlete weighing 150 pounds.

No matter what this or that scientist says about Colossus—you will see him with the Sells-Floto menagerie show. When you have concluded your gasp of amazement, look again and form your own theory, for no one can tell whence he came down to us, nor why.

Sure to Come Back
Lady Henderson, wife of General Sir David Henderson, to whom Britain owes her flying corps, has been "mentioned" for her services at the R. F. C. Hospital.

When the writer last met Lady Henderson she told him a good story about her husband. The general was watching a young cadet who showed signs of trepidation while preparing for his first flight. "Don't be nervous, man," said Sir David. "You'll come down again. There's no instance of an airplane not alighting."—London Times.

AMERICANS SHOW AN ENTIRELY NEW TYPE OF FIGHTING

The following extracts are from a letter from Lieutenant Charles Deaver of Riverside, formerly a teacher in the Santa Ana high school, now at Camp Kearny:

"The news from the western front is better than it was a week ago. If we can hold our reserve army of maneuver intact until we have drawn every German division into the mill there will be some killing when von Hindenburg gets winded. That is the only chance for a victory in 1918."

"One of our French officers got a letter recently from his brother, who is a sergeant in the French army. He says that the American soldiers are violating their ordinary rules of trench warfare. When the French have been raided by the Germans it has been their policy to retire from the front line trenches and let the Germans have them. When the Germans leave or get shelled out, they go back. He said that when the Germans raided the American trenches the Americans jumped over the top and went out to meet them half way across No Man's Land."

"When the Americans are called on to surrender they come out pumping lead out of a Gatling gun in each hand. The Americans are going to show an entirely new type of fighting, and I want to be there in time for something else besides shouting."

"Dearlly, impatiently, and almost hopelessly, we are still waiting with no hope in sight. When are we to get our chance?"

JOHNSON GIVES LOCAL OFFICER CLEAN BILL

County Sealer Receives Commendation of Head State Department

Charles G. Johnson, state superintendent of weights and measures, was here today on his annual tour of inspection of the county weights and measures departments and visited with County Sealer George McPhee. With Johnson were General Edgar Williams, of Sacramento, president of the State Civil Service Commission; Hon. J. W. Kingsbury, surveyor general of the state, and J. L. Powell, also of Sacramento.

Johnson has been appointed chairman of the Swedish Liberty Loan committee in California and last night in Los Angeles delivered the eleventh address in support of the Liberty Loan bonds made by him since the inauguration of the present campaign.

Johnson is a Scandinavian by birth and is the acknowledged leader of some 65,000 men of that nationality in this state, who are expected to subscribe $5,000,000 to the Liberty Loan. "The campaign among the Swedes of the state is in full swing," said Johnson. "We have been called upon to do our bit for our adopted country and we will gladly do it, for we believe there is no other country under the sun so good as our own United States."

Johnson is also prosecuting attorney for the California State Food Administration, appointed by Ralph P. Merritt, and today he said that through that department more than 175,000 pounds of restricted food products have been located in California and returned to the normal channels of trade.

Incidentally, Johnson gave the office of the county sealer of weights and measures a clean bill of health and was outspoken in commendations of the management of the department.

Metal shoes, worn like skates, which grip firmly when weight is applied to them have been invented to enable men to climb steel frames of buildings, bridges and some kinds of poles.

The different classes of mankind can be distinguished by their hair is the theory of a French scientist, who believes there is some relation between the hair and strength of body and mind.

OUR BATTLE

Many thought that there would be little need of argument or appeal for the Third Liberty Loan. In the first place, the amount called for was much smaller than expected, and it has been assumed that the titanic struggle then raging on the plains of Picardy and now on the Ypres front would be all the argument and all the appeal necessary to send the country over the top in one mighty charge.

And yet with nearly half of the period for subscribing over, only a little more than one-third of the amount has been subscribed by the country at large.

And the same condition that pertains in Orange county, pertains over the country as a whole—the country districts and small towns are going beyond their allotment, while the cities are falling under. In Orange county, the country districts have exceeded their apportionment and are still going strong, while Santa Ana has not yet reached her minimum.

Those who are giving of their time for the loan may be counted upon to do their utmost. But the people should awake to a realization of the situation. Read today, the pathetic scenes of the people of the recently conquered portions of Flanders, following in a dazed and dumb manner the military officers to a place of safety behind the lines, leaving behind them everything in life that they had cherished, and then contrast your own condition. And after you have done so, ask yourself whether you have done your share toward defending the line in Flanders. Remember that the English and French and Portuguese who are defending that line are directly responsible for our pleasant faring far from the cannon's roar. And remember that if that line should break, there is no telling how soon we should find ourselves on one of the two coasts of this country under hostile fire.

The students in the schools of Los Angeles are patriotically doing their duty today. The Marlboro School for Girls announced yesterday that their students had purchased $3050 of Third Liberty Loan Bonds. In addition, the German gardener employed at the school and one of the maids, who is a German by birth, both purchased a $100 bond. At the University of Southern California the student body yesterday announced that $3200 of bonds have been sold to the students alone and there is more coming.

THIS IS OUR WAR NOW

This is what our boys "over there" are up against. They are the sworn statements of British officers captured by Germans and released because of wounds incapacitating them for further military service:

Lieutenant Colonel Neish says:

"At Cologne I saw a female with a Red Cross badge on her, after serving our escort of German soldiers with coffee, deliberately pour the remaining contents of the can on the ground when requested to allow us to have some."

Major A. S. Peebles declares:

"At one station we asked two Red Cross ladies for a glass of water, saying it was for a wounded officer. They burst out laughing and said, 'Nothing for you English.'"

Captain Beman testifies:

"The German Red Cross gave no food to prisoners, wounded or otherwise. At times it is shown to them and then withdrawn with kindly remarks that it is not for swine."

Captain Hargreaves asserts:

"At Leige I tried personally to get the German Red Cross officials to give our wounded men water. They refused. I saw some Red Cross nurses actually bring water in cans up to our men, show it to them and then pour it on the platform. This also happened to me personally. All water and food was rigorously refused us. The German wounded in the train had their wounds dressed. This was refused us."

Think these things over when you begin to doubt your ability to buy Liberty Bonds. Remember, too, that the boys in the trenches never stop to think whether they can afford a sacrifice; they do their duty.

The blood of the Pilgrim Fathers runs uncontaminated in the veins of their descendants living in California. H. H. Binning, Secretary of the New England Association of California, went to the bank the other day in San Francisco with $150 and invested it in Third Liberty Loan Bonds. It was very cent the Association had in its treasury.

WAR-FAT BUSINESS

For five years, beginning in 1911, the state of Wisconsin has required the corporations doing business in that state to pay an annual state income tax on their profits. Every year they are required to make a statement of these profits, and undoubtedly the companies making these returns charge off as much as possible to make these taxable profits small. A recently tabulated statement of twenty-one of these Wisconsin concerns, covering the last five years, shows what colossal gains have been made by big business. If they had not confessed to this gain, it would be hard to believe it. The statement shows that in meats profits have doubled 19 times in volume since 1911; in coal 7 times; in shoes 5 times; in paper 13 times; in steel 19 times, and in powder 20 times. And what is true of these concerns in Wisconsin is true of big business the country over.

To maintain the war which has made the enormous excess profits possible, Congress has taken 31 per cent of this mountain of wealth for the year 1917, BUT HAS DRAFTED THE WAGE-EARNER'S AND POOR MAN'S ALL.

In contemplating this flagrant inequality and injustice, we can heartily join in the plea of Capper's Weekly: "Let it be borne in mind when the new war tax law is drafted by the present Congress, that death and taxes should be put on something of a parity in this war, and that means an excess profit tax of not less than 80 per cent."

ARMENIANS REDEEM THEMSELVES

Appeals made to Americans for sympathy on behalf of the persecuted Armenians have always fallen short of their due effect because of a lurking suspicion that the Armenians were cowardly. Americans, being fighters, naturally wondered why the Armenians did not fight. They have appeared to submit too easily to pillage, outrage and slaughter. They have been slain like cattle, seemingly with little more resistance than that of cattle.

We do not know much of the actual conditions that have prevailed in Armenia. Perhaps it has generally been impossible for those long-oppressed Christians to resist the bloody Turks. But if the Armenians have ever been guilty of craven submission, they are now, at last, beginning to vindicate their manhood.

News came early this month that an Armenian army, in conjunction with an army of Georgians, had captured Erzerum and Batum from the Turks, and promised to carry on a successful war against the Turkish forces throughout Armenia and the Caucasus if the Allies would send them prompt support. The army was said to number a quarter of a million men, including Russians from the old army of Grand Duke Nicholas, and had just been augmented by 25,000 fresh Armenian volunteers. Later reports from Constantinople have claimed some successes, but there seems no doubt that the Armenians are still giving an excellent account of themselves.

We shall think better of Armenians after this, pitying them less and admiring them more. We can appreciate their action all the better because it fits in so admirably with allied strategy, renewing the war in a vital region which the Bolsheviks cravenly surrendered, and blocking the Germanic invasion of Asia.

In Daddy's Footsteps

A father and his tiny son
Crossed a rough street one stormy day.
"See, papa," cried the little one,
"I stepped in your steps all the way!"

Ah, random, childish hands, that deal
Quick thrusts no coat of proof could stay!
It touched him with the touch of steel—
"I stepped in your steps all the way!"

If this man shirks his manhood's due
And heeds what lying voices say,
It is not one who falls, but two—
"I stepped in your steps all the way!"

But they who thrust off greed and fear,
Who love and watch, who toil and pray—
How their hearts carol when they hear:
"I stepped in your steps all the way!"

 Simon Brumble has been telling me—For a long time—That as soon—As his wife—Got well enough—He would have me—Down for luncheon some day—

 And yesterday—He came in the office—And asked me—Would I have lunch—At his house—

 And he said—His wife had phoned him—She had a new maid—And it would be all right—For him to bring company—

 And he said—She was a good maid—Because his wife—Was terribly particular—About who did the work—And so was he—

 And when we got there—Mrs. Brumble said—She was so glad—She had a maid—Because they would—Have something good to eat now—

 And the maid—Brought in the soup—And it smelled good—And I told them—How fine it looked—And I started to eat it—

 And I saw a fly in it—And I camouflaged it—With my spoon—And I told them—Soup was too rich—For me to eat—

 And the beef—Was so rare—It looked red—And I never could—Eat rare meat—For it always seemed—Like it wasn't quite dead yet—

 And they asked me—Why didn't I eat it—And I told them—The doctor wouldn't let me—Eat any meat at noon—

 And the potatoes—Were half cooked—And the cornbread was scorched—And the peas tasted—Like they were cooked—In dish water—

 And I talked fast—And gulped down—What I could—And acted like—I was tickled to death—To be there—

 And Mrs. Brumble asked me—Didn't I think—The cook was fine—And I told her—I had never met her—And I asked her—Had the maid been—A school teacher—Or a stenographer—Before she took to cooking—

 And I told her—A friend of mine—Had married a clerk—And she cooked—Just like the maid—

 And she asked me—How did my friend—Like the cooking—And I told her—He didn't live long—

 And she said—"Wasn't that unfortunate?"—

And I said "Yes"—And when I got back—To the office—I took some digestive tablets—By Bud.

NORTHCLIFFE'S JOKE ABOUT US

Lord Northcliffe, the English journalist and publisher, who recently visited this country, likes the hustle and get-up which he found characteristic of Americans. Speaking of this quality in Washington he related the following bit of conversation which he happened to overhear on a train:

"I come from Ashton," said one man. "Finest little town in the Middle West."

"Ashton?" said the other, rather sneeringly. "I don't think much of that place."

"Don't like Ashton!" the first exclaimed in surprise.

"Why, man, when were you there last?"

"About two weeks ago."

"Well," said the proud citizen of Ashton, "you ought to see her now."

IT CERTAINLY WILL

Anyway, Joe Rank of the Atchison Globe takes a hopeful view of things. "Won't it be fine," he says, "when the American army begins to advance the way prices have?"

IT'S ALL THE SAME

"If you can't plant a bullet," urges Earl Woodward of the Minneapolis Messenger, "plant a bean."

FREEDOM IS LIMITED

"This is far from being a free country," writes Deacon Walker in the Osborne Farmer, "when a committee of women gets after a man."

Turn Mortgages Into Liberty Loan Bonds

A. B. Roussele, the well-known and indefatigable Balboa-Newport-Newport Heights booster, has an idea in government financing that he has submitted to Secretary McAdoo as follows:

Los Angeles, Cal., April 16, 1918. Hon. William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, U. S. A., Washington, D. C.

Honorable Sir: That every loyal American desires to aid the government to the limit of his ability, in a financial way, has been demonstrated by the Liberty Bond drives that have been directed so ably by yourself. From my own study and observation of the situation, I am impressed with the belief that a plan might be evolved for securing vast subscriptions in the future which at present, under present methods, can not be placed at the disposal of the government. I refer to the enormous sums that are tied up in gilt-edge mortgages.

May I trespass on your time very briefly, to outline my idea in a very general way?

Assuming that many mortgage holders are anxious to buy a considerable amount of Liberty or other government bonds, is there any reason why it would not be feasible to organize a general plan by which these mortgages could be presented to the banks in different cities, in exchange for Liberty Bonds for the same amount, on the following conditions:

These bonds to be left in escrow during the period that these mortgages run, as a guarantee against any depreciation of same, which would be the same to the holder of these mortgages as waiting for them to become due to have the use of the money. But instead of receiving the money at the expiration of these mortgages, which would become due at different dates—say during the period of not to exceed two years—they could receive the Liberty Bonds. The difference in the interest between the bonds and the mortgages during the life of said mortgages, could be credited to their accounts.

I believe there are thousands holding mortgages, who would be patriotic enough to sacrifice the difference in interest which they would receive by re-lending their money at the expiration of their mortgages, and would be willing to carry and accept Liberty Bonds for them.

As a suggestion, there might be special short-term bonds issued for this purpose.

I have spoken to several of my friends in reference to this matter, and they would be willing to transfer a certain amount of their mortgages for this cause. And I sincerely believe that large amounts of money can be raised by this plan.

If it is feasible and acceptable, I will be glad to tender my services, and will co-operate in the work in any way you may suggest.

I have been for many years a resident of either one or the other of the two congressional districts in Southern California, now ably represented by Hon. H. Z. Osborne and Hon. William G. Kettner, respectively. To these gentlemen, I am mailing copies of the inclosed letter and should you deem it necessary, I take the liberty of referring you to them concerning myself.

Very respectfully yours,
A. B. ROUSSELE.

Proposed National Song

Mr. C. A. McGrew of Paulerino sends the Register the following verses, written by his nephew, Jesse M. Wise, of Boise, Idaho. Mr. Wise will have his verses set to music and seek to make a national song.

Our Country

COLUMBIA! Our fathers found thy land,
A wilderness in all its savage wild;
Glad, yet forbidding sight!
How little knew that worn and weary band
Thy troublous way ahead, though ne'er defiled,
Who strive for freedom may not be beguiled,
Firm champions of the right!

AMERICA! The vision broadens wide,
And liberty extends from sea to sea;
God's freemen blazed the trail!
Ah, glorious land where freemen may abide;
Whate'er befall, our hopes are set on thee,
Our lives are folded in thy destiny,
Thou greatest country, Hail!

THE STARS AND STRIPES, in awe and joy, behold!
They wave a challenge in the despot's face,
And despotism ends!
How thrills the soul, bright flag, as thou dost roll,
And wave on wave of Glory's folds release,
Singing the hymn of freedom for the race;
Our flag enfolds our friends!

UNITED STATES! Thou bold of power vast,
UNITED for the strength to do the right;
All nations look to thee!
Thy future is foretold in thy past;
As thou hast been the torch, for freedom's light,
Still marching on, establish right for might,
Make safe for liberty!

—Jesse M. Wise, Boise, Idaho.

Who wants to set music to these words and make a national song of it? Try it and send me to Mr. Boise.

Notice to the Ladies

In Waco, Texas, there is an auto dealer by the name of Will Love.

Will he?

Speaking of things like that, the man in ad alley says that where there's a will there's usually a scrap among the heirs.

I've noticed that, haven't you?

Let us pause a moment now, while we meet Mr. C. Allhands of Cincinnati.

All hands on deck!

Seems to me that some folks are more familiar with the parts of an automobile than with the parts of speech.

How you talk!

would not allow cards in the house now has a daughter who pays for her clothes out of her bridge winnings.

Many an expert mechanic falls down when trying to run the cellar furnace successfully.

Where Will You Have Yours?

The Arizona Gazette says that the vaccination bug is biting again.

And of course the kissing bug is still at it.

Now that the Dutch ships are taken over, let's hope they'll hurry and take over some of those much needed supplies.

American soldiers will also bear their crosses—with pride!

I mean hero crosses.

Hint to home gardeners: If the ground in your back yard is hard, load your shotgun with dried peas, say, and shoot 'em into the soil.

Then they'll shoot up themselves.

She did her bit for Uncle Sam,
And raised it for the navy.

LINCOLN P. T. A.

Stirring Patriotic Talks Made
at Meeting of Parents and Teachers

The Lincoln P. T. A. held one of the most interesting meetings of the year yesterday afternoon. A class from the first grade gave an interesting exhibition of Miss Paul's excellent method for teaching the little ones to read, and then four of the children gave a little play so naturally and unselfishly that far older folks might take lessons from them.

Miss Beatrice Anderson, one of the high school four-minute girls, talked forcefully on the Liberty Bond campaign, explaining the necessity for everyone to do his best to help the government at this critical period. Mr. Walter Eden was then introduced, and gave a splendid talk on patriotism, making a strong plea for conservation along every line where it can be helpful to the government, and urging investments in Thrift Stamps.

Rev. A. T. O'Rear gave a stirring talk on the war, particularly emphasizing the necessity for keeping the right spirit in regard to the war and its outcome. "It may take a long time to end this war," said Rev. O'Rear, "but it will be finished thoroughly and completely, to the entire satisfaction of everybody in the civilized world." Rev. O'Rear also strongly denounced disloyalty in every form, declaring that the man who knew of a disloyal act and failed to report it to the proper authorities was himself a partner in that disloyalty.

The garments made through the Lincoln Junior Red Cross were on display, and were a revelation to those who saw for the first time the really wonderful garments that skillful fingers can fashion from almost nothing.

The next P. T. A. meeting will be entertained by Miss Adeline Hill's kindergartners.

MAKING SERVICE FLAG

Woman's Relief Corps Has
Fifty-four Stars to Sew on Banner, Want More

The regular meeting of the W. R. C. was held in G. A. R. hall yesterday at 2 p. m. Mrs. Viola Phipps presided. Mmes. Anna Johnson and Elizabeth Burkhead were initiated as members of the order and two new applications for membership were read.

Mrs. Carrie E. patriotic instructor, reported fifty-four names received for stars on the corps and post service flag, which will be completed and placed in the hall on June 14, Flag Day, with appropriate services. Any member of Sedgwick Post, Corps having a son or grandson in the army or navy is asked to send their names at once to Mrs. Carrie E. in order to have them represented on the service flag.

The dinner committee in charge of the banquet given to the boys of Company L reported a most gratifying success. A splendid turkey dinner was served to 300 khaki-clad soldier lads at the noon hour and the following day about a hundred had another dinner on the turkeys that remained from the day before. All the fruit, cakes and canned goods was given to the boys to take back to camp.

Mrs. Rawn, a member of the corps, who has five sons in the war, spoke of the work being done by the Welfare committee helping mothers to provide for and clothe their children, making garments, and other necessities.

A committee was appointed to purchase a range and water heater for the kitchen, with cooking utensils.

GUILD TEA

Pleasant Gathering Episcopal-ian Ladies Wednesday at Home Mrs. N. Reuter

In place of the regular Guild meeting Wednesday a very enjoyable Guild tea was given at the home of Mrs. N. Reuter, 315 South Main street, with Mrs. Reuter, Mrs. Mary Balshaw and Mrs. Elizabeth Wakeham as hostesses.

A goodly number responded to the invitation and as they talked the ladies played their knitting needles for the Red Cross or busied themselves sewing.

Later in the afternoon Miss Rosamond Kraft greatly pleased those present, with piano solos by the American composer, Pascal, and one by a French composer, who had recently died.

The instrumental music was followed with vocal selections of McDowell and Dunbar, by Miss Carol Van Cleave, who added greatly to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

Dainty refreshments were served and after making a silver offering, the guests departed with many expressions of pleasure to the hostesses.

Successful Pie Social

The Pauline school house was the scene last evening of an unique affair, which proved successful both from a social and financial standpoint. A large crowd was present and a very interesting and well rendered musical and literary program was rendered.

J. B. Cleghorn of Harper very kindly offered his services as auctioneer, which was greatly appreciated by those in charge and when the proceeds were counted up after the pies of all kinds were disposed of, they were found to have brought $39.45 and the quilt netted $5.75, which made the neat sum of $45.20 for the good cause.

College Students in Los Angeles Prof. D. K. Hammond, principal of the high school, declared a holiday for the Junior College students today, so that the students could go to Exposition park in Los Angeles to see the pictures there, study the fossil remains and view whatever objects of interest there may be there.

The young people left here on the 8:25 a. m. car and were accompanied by a member of the faculty, Mrs. Robert Northcross.

Violin Recital

The pupils of Prof. G. F. Andrist will give a violin recital and entertainment at Odd Fellows' hall this evening, and a very pleasant program is promised.

PRESENT DAY CLUB

Prof. F. T. Brackett, of Relief Commission, Tells of Belgian Conditions

On Monday evening the Present Day Club listened to an address by Prof. Frank T. Brackett of Pomona College, who was a member of the Belgian Relief Commission at the time the commission was recalled from Belgium.

Prof. Brackett did not announce a subject, stating that he had no subject. He began by analyzing the different points of view of the various nations before the United States entered the war a year ago, narrowing down to the situation of today, which finds the world engaged in a giant conflict with but two points of view—the right and the wrong.

Almost breathlessly his audience waited for Prof. Brackett to speak of personal experiences during his service abroad. In a voice choked with emotion the speaker moved his hearers to tears, not by a graphic description of the wrongs of suffering Belgium, but by the simple statement that he could not speak in detail of the tragedy of this stricken country, or of the unspeakable atrocities, he had witnessed. "I could not stand it," he said, "and you could not stand it."

He spoke only in a general way of the invasion and occupation of Belgium by the Huns, the ruthless destruction of towns and cities, the division of the country which we are familiar. Of murders and other brutalities worse than death, but one incident was given. In a town occupied by the Germans, a dead line was drawn through one of its streets. Death was the penalty for crossing the line. On one side some children played, and an excited little boy dashed across the line. A shot rang out, and a little boy lay lifeless in the street.

From this picture the speaker turned quickly to a description of the deportation, of which he was an eye witness. Gaining entrance by strategy to the guarded square where the men were ordered to report, he remained throughout the terrible day, watching the deportation of Belgium's men into slavery. This, he said, is the greatest tragedy of Belgium, having for its object the disintegration of the nation by the enslavement of its people, and the merging of its blood with that of Germany.

In closing, Prof. Brackett said that until his arrival on native soil he was not able to disclose what he had seen without violating the neutrality of his country. "I resolved, however," he said, "that as soon as I got home they should hear my story in Washington, and I have the satisfaction of knowing that it had something to do with our being in the war."

FOR MISSIONARIES

Young Women's Auxiliary
Have Banquet at First
M. E. Church

The Young Woman's Auxiliary of the W. F. M. S., of the First M. E. church held a banquet last evening at the church, having as their guests of honor the five missionaries and the branch and district officers, who have been attending the annual convention.

About 125 sat down to the banquet. Mrs. W. J. Dean of Escondido, district superintendent of young people's work, acted as toastmistress, with the following program of patriotic toasts, all applied to the mission work in foreign lands:

"Our Big Guns," Mrs. Charles Robinson, Santa Ana.

"The Tanks," Mrs. C. E. Teach, of Orange.

"Over the Top," Mrs. C. E. Jones, of Long Beach.

"No Man's Land," Miss Winifred Spaulding, Pachuca, Mexico.

"Our New Ally," Miss Mabel Lee, Fukuoka, Japan.

"Mobilizing Rastus," Mrs. Warren, Liberia, Africa.

"Wanted Recruits," Mrs. S. F. Johnson, Pasadena.

Before Mrs. Johnson spoke, she called upon Miss Helen Gilliland, a new recruit, who will sail this month for South America. Miss Gilliland was born in South America, of missionary parents, and now with college education, teaching experience, and a knowledge of the language goes back to work in South America.

Mrs. Dean in her introduction and stories pleased all the young people and the responses to the toasts by officers and the missionaries from different countries were inspirational and interesting.

TRAVELOGUES ARE OF

VERY DEEP INTEREST

Dr. E. M. Cobb is holding audiences in the interest of his travelogues from night to night in the Spurgeon Methodist church. Last night he showed pictures of the Kaiser's palace in Jerusalem and told of the ambitious dream of the Kaiser to be the king of Europe and of the world. As a preparation for this he has built and maintains in the city of Jerusalem a magnificent palace. At present it is the dwelling place (or was until Gen. Allenby captured the city) for the Kaiser's minister. Dr. Cobb spent six months in travelling through the holy land and he has hundreds of the most magnificent views which he took at this time. He shows these in stereopticon, and tells the stories of his travels. He is accompanied in his visit to Santa Ana by Dr. Dowling, who was formerly the secretary of the Southern California Sunday School Association. He lectures tonight, tomorrow night, Sunday afternoon and Sunday night.

The funeral of Willard R. STANDARD OIL'S TAKEN LEASES ON MESA AT FAIRVIEW

Moving of Materials and Rush
Upon Well Are to Start
Early Next Week

The Standard Oil company has secured leases upon about 4000 acres on the Fairview mesa, and next week materials will be moved upon the ground for drilling a well. Upon the success of that well depends future developments. If the well turns out to be what the Standard hopes it will be, many other wells will be drilled and a $1,000,000 refinery plant will be built.

This morning Jud Hillman of San Francisco, a vice-president of the Standard Oil company, and one of the recognized biggest oil men in the West, and D. F. Martin of Los Angeles, in charge of leases for the Standard Oil in Southern California, were in Santa Ana.

They stated that leases had been signed in the last two days for a big acreage in the section between Fairview and Newport Bay. Some of the land taken under lease belongs to the Irvine company, some to the Bannings and some to J. A. Stevens of Santa Ana.

Hillman made a special trip to San Francisco for the purpose of signing the leases and getting the matter cleared up so that the Standard can commence operations at once.

Materials will be put on the ground the first of next week, and the well will be drilled as rapidly as possible. The Standard is the leader in development of new territory in this county. The Murphy field near Fullerton is now recognized as one of the finest small pieces of oil territory in the world. A short time ago the Standard took a lease on the Kraemer property at Yorba, as well as upon other property there, and commenced drilling a well immediately. That well is now down 1400 feet.

NEW SCHEDULE BY COMPANY AUTHORIZED FOR COUNTY

county. In Long Beach, the Home acquires the business of the Pacific. In Wilmington, San Pedro and Ventura the Pacific acquires the property of the Home.

In the valuation of the properties of the two companies in the district covered in the findings, the commission places the present value of the Pacific properties at $462,705.43 and the Home properties at $468,891.64, the inventory being of December 31, 1916, with the estimate based on current prices. Taking the estimated reproduction cost of the two plants as made by the commission's engineers for December 31, 1916, and the present value under current prices, the two properties show an increase in value in little over a year of $106,644.34.

Report for This County
The hearing here was before Commissioner Edgerton. He wrote the opinion with Commissioners Max Thelan, Alex Gordon and Frank R. Devlin concurring.

The findings, as they relate to Orange county, are as follows:

There was very decided protest made to the proposal of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company that all free switching be eliminated between exchanges and to the imposition of new rates for the consolidated service.

In the County of Orange the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company is to acquire all of the telephone properties of its competitor.

Partly as the result of competition there has been established the practice of permitting subscribers in one exchange to converse with subscribers in other exchanges at no additional charge over regular exchange rates.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company proposes to do away with this practice, contending that conversation between exchanges is properly toll or long distance service and as such should carry a long distance charge.

Subscribers object to this proposal. Some insist that the present status both as to rates and free switching be maintained, others propose that no tolls for service between exchanges be charged for as such, but that the exchange rates of subscribers be raised to compensate the company for what is now free switching, while still others suggest that the whole of Orange county be made, in effect, into one exchange and rates be fixed so as to compensate the company for providing universal service so that any subscriber in Orange county might telephone to any other subscriber in the county and pay no charge other than a flat monthly rate.

Free switching between logical exchange areas is had practice. There is a clear and necessary distinction between exchange service and long distance service.

Exchange service is given between people who reside in a separate community where it is to the mutual interest that telephone connection be readily had at reasonable cost and without distinction as to cost because of distance separating subscribers. In such a community it may be assumed that each subscriber will use the telephone freely, and experience has demonstrated the wisdom of treating the community service as a whole.

Community Interests Factor
Service between communities, (not necessarily confined within political boundaries), is of a different basis. Here there is not the need for frequent telephone connection between people who have not the same community or neighborhood interests. Hence comparatively few use such service either for business or pleasure and as such service is costly to maintain, if we exact no additional charge therefor, we must impose this burden upon the many who seldom, if ever, use this service, for the benefit of the few.

We would all object, for instance, to pay a rate for our residence telephone which would pay for the long distance service between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

It is inevitable that those who use only the exchange service are paying a part of the charges which should be assessed against those who use the service between exchanges.

Free switching between exchanges here involved should be abolished and the established toll rates charged for conversation between subscribers in different exchanges.

It is of course proper that fair and logical boundaries be fixed for exchanges.

The evidence in this proceeding shows that not all of the exchange areas in Orange county are fair or logical. For instance, there seems to be no justification for the imposition of separate exchange areas between Tustin and Santa Ana and there may be other instances, but the evidence is not such as to enable us to clearly set out the proper exchange areas.

I shall recommend therefore that before free switching is abolished and new rates established, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company present for our approval a plan of Orange county setting out fair and logical exchange areas.

Rates Not the Same
The rates of the companies are not in all instances the same for like service and the service heretofore given has not been in all instances the same, and the new service given by the consolidated system will be different than that heretofore given by either company. Hence the need for new rates for the new service. If the attempt were made to maintain the present rates, extreme and unjustifiable discrimination would result.

Sufficient evidence was introduced by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company to show that the present rates are in many instances unreasonably low. The proposal of the company therefore to establish its minimum standard schedule is not unreasonable. With very few and minor exceptions this schedule of rates is as low for a like service as any in California.

While this schedule of rates will result in some increases, it is to be remembered that increased service will be given in that service to subscribers of both companies will be available at the new rates.

Eden Not Surprised
"Granting of the petition for merger and increase in rates is no surprise to me," said Eden today. "We were not particularly opposed to the merging of the companies and only protested as a part of our plans to prevent the elimination of the free toll areas and on increase in rates."

"When we got before the commission at the second hearing, I learned for the first time that the Railroad Commission had already established a minimum phone rate, and at that time concluded that our fight against the increase was hopeless."

"However, there is no good reason for the conclusion reached by the commissioner that the difference in rates of the two companies require an adjustment, for the present rates of the Pacific are sufficient and should stand, in my opinion."

"It is true that we were not able to get before the commissioner a definite territory in which we believe the free switching privileges should be maintained. We had no map by which we could present evidence in support of any one particular area for the extension of the lines of the different companies covered such a wide territory that it was almost impossible to designate what should be incorporated in such districts."

"Community interests, as suggested by the commissioner, should be determining points in the establishment of the free zones. From the fact that the headquarters of the Irrigation company and the Orange County Fruit Exchange are located at Orange, Santa Ana, Orange and Tustin are allied communities, for people living in each of the three districts are in communication with one or the other communities daily. To eliminate the free tolls would impose a severe hardship on the people of these communities."

—and here are the scientific reasons why. The dirt that collects on and in the rugs and carpets of your home is of three classes.

1st—Loose surface dust and dirt—bits of paper, crumbs, burned matches, etc.—dirt that lies on the surface of the carpet and rug.
2nd—Adhering dirt—such as thread, hair, lint, sewing room litter, which persistently cling to the nap of the carpet.
3rd—Deep-in imbedded heavy dirt—the sand and grit that sifts down into the body of the carpet and rug, and which you can't see but which is the most destructive because if not dislodged it gets into and cuts the fabric of the floor covering under the pressure of footsteps, rocking chairs, etc.

SUCTION ALONE CANNOT REMOVE THESE THREE CLASSES OF DIRT—BUT THREE SEPARATE CLEANING PROCESSES ARE REQUIRED.

The satisfactory cleaner must—
1st—Sweep loose the adhering dirt such as thread, hair, and lint that makes floor coverings look dirty and brush up the matted down nap or pile to restore the colorings.
2nd—It must loosen and shake to the surface the deep-in dirt, that ruins rugs and carpets, so it can be removed.
3rd—It must have sufficient suction to carry away all the dirt after the soft hair brush loosens it to make its removal possible.

WESTMINSTER NEWS BUDGET FOR WEEK

WESTMINSTER, April 17.—Clyde Day made a short visit home, coming Monday and returning to San Diego Tuesday.

The dredger of the Westminster Drainage District which has been cleaning the ditches for several months finished its work last week Tuesday.

A welcome improvement in the way of a strong fence, is being put up at the edge of the drainage ditch from the Westminster boulevard south. It is hoped this will effectually prevent accidents on this piece of road, or at least keep autos from the ditch.

Miss Cora Fowler of Los Angeles came home for a week-end visit. She, in company with her mother and brother, visited friends in Orange on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Anderson and children visited Charles Anderson and family in Eagle Rock from Friday till Monday. J. Y. Anderson returned to Los Angeles with them.

L. E. Rich and family visited relatives in Long Beach Sunday. Miss Lavinia, who spent her vacation there returned home with them.

Mrs. Stuart Bertz of Los Angeles was a guest of Mrs. J. F. Patterson on Wednesday.

Mrs. Harry Manspinner spent the week-end with her mother in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Whitliff of Los Angeles attended the funeral of Mrs. Buck Tuesday. She was known here in her girlhood days as Miss Josie Williams.

Charles Parr and family made a trip to Los Angeles Tuesday afternoon. John McBride is spending a few days at the hospital in Garden Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Johnson of Orange spent one day this week with her sister, Mrs. J. J. Stoves.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Berchard of Talbert were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hampton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harper attended the hill climb at Capistrano Sunday.

Charles Parr expects to finish planting beets this week. He has 380 acres of beets this year, about 100 of which are thinned. There is plenty of help for the work of thinning this year in contrast with the shortage of last year.

J. J. Stoves is building a garage this week.

The Red Cross has begun making bed socks.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church held its monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon. Plans were discussed for securing two missionary speakers for the near future.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. M. J. BUCK

WESTMINSTER, April 17.—Amidst a wealth of beautiful flowers, among which were many special floral pieces from the various organizations of the church, the Woman's Relief Corps of Santa Ana, and friends, were held the last sad services for Mrs. M. J. Buck. She suffered a stroke of paralysis last week Monday.

She was able to move one hand till Thursday, when it was thought she had another stroke, and gradually grew weaker till the end, which came about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Having lived in this vicinity since 1875, she was one of the pioneers, and will be sadly missed, not only by her immediate family and a large circle of friends, but in the church and Sunday school class, prayer meeting and missionary society, where she was always found in her place if able to be there, often attending in great bodily weakness.

The services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. T. Wardle. The music was furnished by a quartet composed of Misses Laura Thompson and Marjorie Bryan, Messrs. W. E. Smith and S. C. Thompson.

After a voluntary, "But for a Moment This Weight of Affliction," followed by prayer and scripture reading from John 14 and I. Cor. 15, "Saved by Grace" was sung as duet and quartet chorus. This song was selected several years ago by Mrs. Buck and marked in her hymn-book to be used at this time.

After reading the obituary, the pastor preached the funeral sermon from the text, "Godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come." I. Tim. 4:8.

"Safe in the Arms of Jesus" was sung by the quartet.

While those present passed for their farewell view of the form in the casket, W. E. Smith sang the beautiful solo, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought Comes to Me O'er and O'er."

The pall-bearers were Mrs. Buck's four sons, John, Sherman, Ellsworth and Charles Buck, and two grandsons, John Buck and Nelson Buck.

OBITUARY
Mary Jane Buck was born at Penzance, Cornwall, England, Dec. 3, 1837. She entered into life, leaving her home at Westminster, April 13, at 3:45 p. m., aged 80 years, four months and ten days.

With her parents, she came to the United States when she was six years old. Her family settled in Wisconsin, where she spent her girlhood days. From Wisconsin the family moved to Illinois, then in 1865 to Iowa, where they remained about seven years. In 1873 they moved to Kansas, staying about two years. They came to California in 1875, settling at Westminster, where Mrs. Buck has lived for forty-three years. She was married to Mr. Buck in Illinois in 1857, when she was 20 years of age. Four years after ward her husband enlisted in the Civil war and after two years of active

PLAN PATRIOTIC EXERCISES ON FLAG DAY

Thrift Stamp Committees May Organize For Demonstrations June 14

Plans for a patriotic demonstration in all sections of Southern California on June 14, Flag Day, in connection with a big Thrift Stamp drive, were discussed in Los Angeles yesterday by G. A. Davidson, Mrs. Eleanor Gernio and County Chairman John McFadden.

Davidson is state chairman of the Southern California Thrift Stamp Committee, and he advises that regimental bands for public demonstrations can be secured from Camp Kearny for the occasion.

Plans are being developed for the organization of Thrift Stamp Clubs in all sections, and organization of these will be in the hands of someone from the Los Angeles headquarters, who will be given special detail for this work.

While there is no particular cause for complaint at the way people are purchasing stamps, the sales by no means are what they should be, for practically every community is behind what its total should be to date.

Special efforts will be made to put the county over the top by the close of the year.

WILL MAKE NAMES OF SLACKERS PUBLIC

Vigilance Committee Is Appointed Today to Investigate Individual Cases

SANTA ANA BANKS BE OPEN TOMORROW EVE SELL LIBERTY BONDS

All of Santa Ana's banks will be open tomorrow evening, Saturday, from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m., so that any person who desires to do so can subscribe to the Third Liberty Bond issue. There are a good many men and women who are employed during the day time who will appreciate having this opportunity to enter their names upon the Liberty subscription roll.

Names of those who do not support the government by the purchase of Liberty Bonds, and are able to do so, will be made public, according to plans made today with the organization of a vigilance committee for Santa Ana.

The vigilance committee is composed of some of the most prominent men in the city, and they will make a thorough investigation of each individual before making a name public.

"There is no reason why the public should not know who the slackers are," said a prominent Liberty Loan worker today. "Their neighbors and their friends, who have been loyal to the government, should know whether or not they have participated in the war financing activities."

"The committee will be provided with data on a slacker's financial standing, and the individual will be given an opportunity to come through. Failing in this, the committee will make his name public."

Santa Ana today is a little less than $100,000 short of her quota of $755,000, and the situation is such that City Chairman Zernan called his district chairmen together at a luncheon at James' for a discussion of plans for pushing Santa Ana out of the slacker column.

District Chairmen Vandermast, Harvey, Finley, Mitchell and Metzgar were in attendance, as was also County Chairman R. L. Bisby and Liberty Loan Committee secretary, Victor Hawk.

Zernan went over the situation with his chairmen and instructed them to call their sub-chairmen into action for another canvass of the city in the near future. It will not be a house to house canvass. The reports filed by solicitors on the first drive show that hundreds of people were away from home when they called, and the committees will be called together to work out those cards where parties were rejected away from home.

With the information will be provided and the committees are to continue their work until they are satisfied that every individual in the city is capable of rendering financial assistance to the government has subscribed or has been given the opportunity to refuse to subscribe.

The vigilance committee will get busy at once. In cases where people are unable to give more have attempted to get by with a $50 subscription, the committee will see them and endeavor to induce them to increase their subscriptions.

The chairmen have been impressed with the fact that it is not merely the quota that is wanted—distribution of the bonds among a large number of people is preferred to meeting the quota. But with the quota raised, efforts will continue to induce everyone possible to loan the government money.

The situation on the battle front has demonstrated to the people of the United States the importance of giving the government every assistance in its war plans—the quicker and more rapidly the plans are carried out the quicker the terrible struggle will end—and it will take money to speed up the plans.

MRS. C. E. TEACH TODAY ELECTED PRESIDENT

San Diego District Foreign Missionary Society Ends Convention Today

President—Mrs. C. E. Teach, Orange. First Vice-President—Mrs. J. J. Hathaway, Riverside. Second Vice-President—Mrs. E. L. Barnes, San Diego. Third Vice-President—Mrs. G. R. Reburn, Garden Grove. Fourth Vice-President—Mrs. E. A. Palmer, El Centro. Recording Secretary—Mrs. F. F. Thomson, Corona. Treasurer—Miss Gertrude Richardson, Santa Ana. Secretary of Tithing, Literature and Jubilee—Mrs. E. D. Riddle, Orange. Secretary Extension Work—Mrs. Edward Lee, Santa Ana. Secretary Special Work—Mrs. W. J. Saunby, Santa Ana.

The San Diego District Foreign Missionary convention opened auspiciously yesterday morning in the First M. E. church, with delegates from twenty places present, to the number of 100, not including the hostesses auxiliaries of the First M. E. and Richmond Avenue churches. Mrs. J. J. Hathaway of Riverside, president of the district, was in the chair.

After the opening hymn and prayer, greetings were brought from the First church by Mrs. S. M. Davis; Richland Avenue by Mrs. P. Van Doren, and the Young Woman's Auxiliary by Miss Richardson, the corresponding secretary. Mrs. Gulick of Orange showed a chart giving the names of the twenty auxiliaries—a red line showing the average membership which is W. F. M. S. adult membership to seven church members.

A most amusing demonstration was given by six ladies, who held an auxiliary meeting for which no arrangements had been made, highly exaggerated, but typical of some auxiliaries where they meet from duty but have no interest and in consequence of which nothing is accomplished. Later these ladies attend a convention and learn how to conduct a business meeting. Mrs. Teach of Orange acted as president of the model auxiliary, with Mrs. H. W. Peck as hostess.

The guests of honor were introduced. Mrs. Spaulding of Mexico and the Philippines expects to leave soon for her field of work. Mrs. Gilleland, who leaves soon for South America, said she was glad that she can battle for the King of kings and help to take the light to those who have it not. Mrs. Haley, whose husband was pastor of First church twenty-seven years ago, spoke of the first missionary auxiliary organized here. Mrs. Farrel brought greetings from Columbia River branch.

Mrs. S. F. Johnson, corresponding secretary of Pacific branch, spoke words of welcome on behalf of the new auxiliaries, which have taken up the greater work in the world, which is to crown Christ king.

Seventy-five million women and girls are assigned to the care of the M. E. church, and this work falls to the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, whose work is to evangelize the world. Miss Kryder, who has been in the work and knows the needs, spoke of three special objects of work, the support of eight new Bible women in Roore, India, at $25 each.

The work accomplished by Bible women is very great. At Merritt, India, village schools are to be established. It costs $15 a year to carry on this work, and there is a great call for Christian education for children. At Lahore, India, six scholarships at $20 each can be secured; $20 will support a girl in a boarding school.

Miss Mabel Lee, dressed in Japanese costume, gave the address of the morning. She said the missionary schools are not to supplement the government schools, although the work must be well done to compete with the Japanese schools, but the purpose is to convert these young women to Christianity, to establish Christianity in the empire. The majority of the young women educated in the missionary schools go back to their homes and environments and live the Christian life. The girls represent many types—seen in old Japan and new Japan.

Only 20 per cent of the Japanese have heard of Jesus, and that mostly in the rural districts. The Japanese themselves give largely to Christian benevolences. Last year alone they gave $4,000,000.

Miss Carrie Leas, secretary of supplies, presented her work and exhibited books for study and information. The convention then adjourned for the lunch hour.

Afternoon Session

The quiet hour was conducted by Rev. L. O. Bostwick of Harper. Mrs. Warner, missionary to Liberia, spoke of the needs of her people. In part, she said: "It takes far more money to live in Africa than it did a year ago. I would rather be there suffering with my people, knowing I was taking the light to them, than to be here living in luxury. My country needs you, my people need everything that civilization calls for—they need more with civilization than when living in the brush."

After this fine address, one member from each auxiliary spoke of the special need in her auxiliary. Mrs. S. F. Johnson suggested one way of getting people interested in missions was having each member go personally to the uninterested and presenting to them the great work and the need of their co-operation. Many helpful thoughts were brought out in this symposium for the help of the auxiliaries, one of the greatest needs being more practical prayer.

Miss Mae Kimball sang the new song composed by Mrs. Lena Leonard Fisher, of whom Mrs. Johnson said, "She is the greatest woman in Methodism today." The song is entitled, "As Her Soldier Boy Marched By." Mrs. Gulick led in prayer for the safety and protection of "our boys."

The question box was then opened. An answer to one question was: "Go after new members, first for their sake that their lives may be broadened, their interest in world needs increased and second for the sake of the auxiliary, that new life may be brought in and depleted ranks filled, that the great work of the evangelizing of the world may be carried on."

Miss Winnifred Spaulding told of the needs in Mexico. She said a quiet little lady who could not speak in public did a great deal of good. She prayed for fact, and told a missionary tale and left a tract and spoke of the love of Christ in each home she visited. The chief impression she brought from Mexico was that of the overwhelming, heart-breaking needs of the people. The country needs a righteous government; she needs water-irrigation to make the desert blossom as the rose; she needs intelligent enterprise, and many other needs were spoken of. In the Sarah Keen school, with which Miss Spaulding was identified, the girls are given an industrial education. Normal trained teachers are needed in the schools. She spoke of the great wealth of the silver mines in Pachincha, where 3500 tons of silver ore go through the Rio Del Monte mills in a day, 12 silver bars valued at $1000 each. These mills are owned by foreigners and are developed by them, nothing by the Mexicans. One thousand Mexican laborers work in these mills. Food is so high that many are starving. Many who sent their girls to this Keen school cannot do so now, so it is necessary for us to provide scholarships. For $50 each of the girls will be fed and be under the continual influence of the missionary workers.

Mrs. S. F. Johnson, corresponding secretary of the Pacific branch, told of the branch needs. She opened her remarks by saying: "One clear, shining truth in these dark days is the evident need of each for the Lord Christ and our opportunity to represent him. We must be prepared for the reconstructive period after this cruel war is over. We must place the Master's services on the plane on which it should stand. Pacific branch is one of the eleven subdivisions of this great society. Each branch in this wonderful, business-like system is apportioned each year a certain amount. This year the responsibilities are greater than ever before, and the apportionment is $75,000. She spoke of the great mass movement in India; last year 91,000 asked for baptism; and there are not enough missionaries to take care of them. The very greatest need is for consecrated, well trained women, physically strong, mentally equipped. She also spoke of the work carried on at Grenoble, France, for some years and the increasing work and need since so many orphans are flocking to this home for protection. All Methodism is planning to use the month of May for patriotism; $45,000 is to be raised for French war orphans in France, Italy and northern Africa.

Mrs. Dean, district superintendent of young people's work, introduced Mrs. Jones of Long Beach as branch superintendent of young people's work, after which she made a helpful talk on ways of interesting young people.

Mrs. Beebe of Anaheim spoke on "Our Children," and was followed by Mrs. Tedrick on the same subject, giving statistics of the work for the year. Sixteen Little Light Bearers from Anaheim—10 bearing candles—gave a recitation and song, which was very well and prettily rendered. At the request of Mrs. Tedrick eighteen Little Light Bearers were made Jubilee Legion members by different friends.

Illustrated Lecture

The illustrated lecture in the evening was one greatly enjoyed. Rev. Herbert Withey, who gave the address, "Scenes and Stories from the Life of an African," has lived in Africa 30 years, going to that country with his parents, who were co-workers with Bishop Taylor. All the pictures were taken by the lecturer himself, so there was a personal touch about each one. He showed pictures of Africans before and after conversion, their homes and modes of living. One very realistic was of a lion taken four feet from the camera, by Mr. Withey. This lion had killed thirty head of cattle before being caught in a trap. After seeing these beautiful pictures the hearers felt that missionary work in Africa really pays. The great need there is for more missionaries.

At this service Mrs. Snow gave a beautiful organ number and a quartet was sung by Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Lash, Mr. Haynes and Mr. Garraway. Officers Elected

The convention closed this noon with the election of officers, hearing of excellent reports and the transaction of business.

THE BALANCE OF POWER

OVER THE TOP

PAUL WRIGHT INTO Y. M. C. A.; GILLMOR GOES AS A CHAPLAIN

Former Santa Ana Pastor Will Enter Into War Service

Rev. Paul E. Wright, for several years pastor of the First Christian Church of Santa Ana, has announced to his church at San Bernardino that he is going into Y. M. C. A. war work.

Rev. Wright has been pastor of the First Christian Church at San Bernardino for the last year and a half. Telling of his decision to enter the war service, the San Bernardino Sun has the following:

"Announcement that Rev. Paul E. Wright is to enter Y. M. C. A. war work came with a distinct shock to his congregation when he made known his plans from the pulpit. Surprise is also felt among the people of the city generally, yet among the family it has been realized that sooner or later Mr. Wright must answer the call. As he said in speaking of his decision: 'After this war, a man who hasn't had any part in it, is going to feel out of the running. I have talked war ever since I have been in town, and I have felt for months that it was my duty to answer the call. I am ready to dig ditches, if ditches it is to be. Anywhere, anything, that the Y. M. C. A. asks me to go or do, I will do gladly, even to being a maid-of-all-work.'

It is such sentiment as this which shows why Rev. Wright has been so popular as a pastor and a man in the church and community. Although a preacher, he has never been afraid of being human. He has kept up with all the sports that boys are interested in, being a big edition of "boy" himself, and is one of the baseball enthusiasts of the town. Local Y. M. C. A. circles will regret his going keenly, for he has ever taken a prominent part in the spiritual as well as the physical welfare of the boys. The "Life Issues" club of the association has found a splendid teacher in Rev. Wright, and the Boy Scouts of his own church have found him ever ready and eager to help.

D. E. Luther, of the state executive committee, was in the city Friday, conferring with Mr. Wright, whom he had heard of as being willing to enter the service. Just when the latter will go, or where, is not definitely arranged as yet, but he hopes it will be to France. No particular training in preparation is required, only that one must be the sort who "understands boys." That Mr. Wright fulfills this requirement may be seen, when Mr. Luther himself said: 'If I was just coming out of the trenches, you are the sort of man I'd want to see.'

If Mr. Wright is sent abroad, Mrs. Wright expects possibly to go to South Dakota, the northwestern part of the state, and take up a claim. Three sisters, her father and grandfather have claims there, so she will be among her relatives. In this event, for seven months of the year, Mrs. Wright with the children, would live on the claim, going to Des Moines, Iowa, for the remaining months, where in time the talented little Miss Elizabeth expects to attend Drake university.

"The congregation of the First Christian church feels keenly the going of their pastor and family, as Mr. and Mrs. Wright have both done a splendid work here, and were beginning to feel thoroughly at home. Who will fill the pulpit in the coming months has not been arranged for yet."

Ex-Anaheim Rector Leaves For Ministerial Training School

Rev. David Todd Gillmor, former rector of the Episcopal church at Anaheim and El Toro, has done to Louisville, Ky., to take a special training course that he may enter the army as a chaplain.

Like Rev. Paul E. Wright, he gives up temporarily his church at San Bernardino. For a time, while rector at Anaheim, Rev. Gillmor preached Sunday afternoons at El Toro. He was chaplain of the Elks lodge at Santa Ana at the time he moved to San Bernardino.

Concerning his departure from San Bernardino, the Sun of that place says: "Rev. David Todd Gillmor, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, leaves tonight for Louisville, Kentucky, to take a six weeks' course in a training school for army chaplains, and if at the end of that period he passes the examinations the result will probably be a commission for him and service in the war. The vestry of St. John's yesterday gave the rector a six weeks' leave of absence that he might go to Louisville."

All this developed very rapidly. Yesterday morning Mr. Gillmor received notice from the war department advising him of the training school, and asking if he wished to avail himself of it. Doubtless this grew out of the fact that a year or more ago Mr. Gillmor's name was coupled with that of the rank of chaplain in the Seventh regiment, before or about the time it was mustered into the United States service.

Immediately upon receiving the notification Mr. Gillmor was passed physically by Dr. Savage, and then secured his leave of absence and wired the war department that he will report at Louisville Saturday, April 20 when the school opens. The experience there is expected to be strenuous, with 14 to 16 hours of work and study each day.

Mr. Gillmor will return to San Bernardino and resume his work in St. John's as soon as the school closes, continuing in that pulpit until he shall be ordered into active service, when it is likely another leave of absence for the period of the war will be asked for.

"Mr. Gillmor is also president of the San Bernardino chapter of the Red Cross, but in his absence the work of the chapter will continue under the direction of the vice-presidents, R. B. Goodcell and R. C. Harbison."

Big Demand Is Occasioned By Heavy Cover Crop In Orchards

The heavy demand for water for irrigating cover crops, together with the ordinary demand, has caused the S. A. V. I. company to put three of its pumps in action and to increase the price to 40 cents per hour per head of water.

The raise became effective yesterday morning, while pumps Nos. 3 and 4, near Olive, were put in action on Wednesday and No. 1 started yesterday.

Nearly forty-four heads were in the main canal yesterday, pumps 3 and 4 swelling the volume by about 700 inches.

ANAHEIM MAN SAYS HE HAS KNOWN SECRET OF LONG RANGE GUN YEARS

Anaheim Herald: While the whole world has been agog for the past few weeks over the bombardment of Paris by a German gun of huge caliber from a distance of 70 miles, there has been a man in Anaheim who has known the secret of the construction of such a gun for nearly thirty years.

This man is no other than J. K. Brown, who lives on West Broadway.

It was discovered in an interview Monday evening between Mr. Brown and a Herald representative, that J. K. Hamilton Brown, a cousin of J. K. Brown, perfected a gun capable of all the accomplishments of the long-range gun now in use by the Germans, and that J. K. Brown was associated with him and was very instrumental in perfecting the weapon.

There is every reason to believe that the huge long-range gun, which is depositing its deadly missiles in Paris from a distance of over seventy miles, is modeled after the pattern of the gun invented by J. K. Hamilton Brown and his cousin, J. K. Brown of Anaheim, which was patented by them in all foreign countries several years ago.

A short time ago a newspaper published in Worcester, Maine, Mr. Brown's old home, printed an interview from a man who had just recently returned from Germany, in which he stated that the Krupp gun works was working on a gun built on the same principles as the Brown gun.

With the patents of the Brown gun on file with the German government it would be an easy matter for them to turn out such a gun in their own plants.

Mr. Brown states that seventy miles is not the maximum range of a gun of this design. He says that according to government tests and calculations a gun of this type, with a ten-inch bore would be able to project a shell 100 miles.

NAVAL RESERVES WANTED BY U. S.

Appeal Is Made For Eligible Men to Enlist In Reserves at Once

The United States Naval Reserve, through its recruiting office in the Union Oil building, Los Angeles, is appealing for volunteers from this district. As inducements to men to join, the recruiting officer cites the following, among numerous other advantages:

"The naval reserve force is an actual part of the U. S. navy, created for service in time of war. Men are given every possible opportunity for advancement; those who show good promise are sent to the officers' training schools in different parts of the United States for instruction and training. Men to be eligible must be between the ages of 18 and 35; must be native born citizens of the United States or have their final naturalization papers; must show a clean bill of health; and, if within the draft ages, must have a statement from their local boards showing they are not in the current quota.

Practically all departments are open for enrollment. Men with trades are accepted in their trades; men without trades are enrolled for deck, engine and fire-room duties, and for special duties. Recruits are subject to call for active duty for full naval service when actually needed.

"Liberal allotments are made married men for their wives and children; men who are not married but have dependents are also liberally provided for. In addition, the insurance offered by the navy is the best and cheapest that can be obtained."

Tired Nervous Mothers

Should Profit by the Experience of These Two Women

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am the mother of four children, and for nearly three years I suffered from a female trouble with pains in my back and side, and a general weakness. I had professional attendance most of that time but did not seem to get well. As a last resort I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I had seen advertised in the newspapers, and in two weeks noticed a marked improvement. I continued its use and am now free from pain and able to do all my household work."—Mrs. B. B. ZIELINSKA, 202 Weiss Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound the credit."—Mrs. JOSEPHINE KIMBLE, 935 West Race Street, Portland, Ind.

High Minimum Price Guaranteed For Sugar Beets

Our 1918 contract provides payment for beets based on price received for the sugar, but guarantees that such payment will be not less than though the sugar, (which will not all be sold until about August 1st, 1919) brings 7½¢ per pound. This means a minimum price of $7.50 per ton for beets testing 15% sugar, plus 50¢ additional for each 1% sugar above 15%, or $9.50 per ton for beets testing 19%, which is a little under the average test of beets produced around Santa Ana. (The last 10-year average throughout Southern California was 18.9234%.) We assume all risk of sugar bringing less than 7½¢ but the beet grower gets still higher prices if sugar brings more than that price.

The guaranteed price for 19% beets under previous contracts was $5.70. A comparison between the minimum returns per acre for 19% beets under such previous contracts, and under our 1918 contract, appears below:

	Previous years' Contracts	Returns per acre 1918 Minimum Returns	Increase Per Acre
Crop of 8 tons per acre	$ 45.60	$ 76.00	$ 30.40
" " 9 " " "	51.30	85.50	34.20
" " 10 " " "	57.00	95.00	38.00
" " 11 " " "	62.70	104.50	41.80
" " 12 " " "	68.40	114.00	45.60
" " 13 " " "	74.10	123.50	49.40
" " 14 " " "	79.80	133.00	53.20
" " 15 " " "	85.50	142.50	57.00
" " 16 " " "	91.20	152.00	60.80
" " 17 " " "	96.90	161.50	64.60
" " 18 " " "	102.60	171.00	68.40
" " 19 " " "	108.30	180.50	72.20
" " 20 " " "	114.00	190.00	76.00

In other words, the 1918 contract guarantees the grower as much for 9 tons of beets as he was formerly guaranteed for 15 tons. The increase almost equal the operating cost of growing an average crop, and exceeds such cost on some of the higher tonnages.

The price to be received for practically all other crops is entirely speculative, but under this contract the grower only speculates as to whether or not his crop will bring more than the established high minimum price.

BACKWOODS PARTY IS BARREL OF FUN FOR THOSE PRESENT

John Courreges Joins Field
Artillery at Ft.
McDowell

TALBERT, April 19.—Rev. J. Alvah Andrews was host last Friday evening at a "backwoods school" party held in the League room of the church. Twenty-five were present, all young people of the League and Y. M. C. A. club with the exception of two or three ladies of the community. Everything done during the evening was out of the ordinary and the costumes were decidedly fantastic, causing much merriment. One boy came dressed as an Indian, with feathers and war paint complete, and persevered in wearing his blanket all evening in spite of the inconvenience of it.

The young people furnished the "eats," the girls taking sandwiches and the boys fruit and some of the modes of conveying their donations to the party carried out the "backwoods" idea to perfection. For instance, a quantity of nuts was brought in a three-gallon milk pail, while a dozen bananas were carried in a grain sack, the surplus room being filled out with newspapers for the sake of appearance.

The most of the games were played with nuts. A new forfeit game was greatly enjoyed as was a contest in which two parties fed each other with bread crumbs from a spoon while blindfolded. All the games were new, adding much to the good time. The boys "bobbed" for apples to secure their partners for supper, a paper containing a girl's name being sunk in each. As the majority of the apples sank to the bottom of the tub, it was necessary for each to get a pretty thorough ducking before the apple was secured. The first "diver" considered himself extremely lucky as only

Red-blooded men of courage are on the firing line—and there are many anemic, weak, discouraged men and women left at home.

At this time of the year most people suffer from a condition often called Spring Fever. They feel tired, worn out, before the day is half thru. They may have frequent headaches and sometimes "pimples" or pale skin.

Bloodless people, thin, anemic people, those with pale cheeks and lips, who have a poor appetite and feel that tired, worn or feverish condition in the springtime of the year, should try the refreshing tonic powers of a good alternative and blood purifier. Such a one is extracted from blood root, Golden Seal and Stone root, Queen's root and Oregon Grape root, made up with chemically pure glycerine and without the use of alcohol. This can be obtained in ready-to-use tablet form in sixty cent vials, as druggists have sold it for fifty years as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a standard remedy that can be obtained in tablet or liquid form.

A good purge should be taken once a week even by persons who have a movement daily, in order to eliminate matter which may remain and cause a condition of auto-intoxication, poisoning the whole system. To clean the system at least once a week is to practice health measures. There is nothing so good for this purpose as tiny pills made up of the May-apple, leaves of aloe and jalap, and sold by almost all druggists in this country as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, sugar-coated, easy to take.

On Way to Camp
Mrs. J. H. Cox received the word from her daughter, Mrs. Annie Edmunds, of Los Angeles, this week that her husband, Frank Edmunds, is now on his way to a training camp in Massachusetts. Edmunds enlisted in the engineer corps several months ago, since which time he has been at Fort McDowell. Mrs. Edmunds is making her home during her husband's absence with his people and is employed as assistant in a dentist's office in the city, having begun work the first of the week.

Rev. Andrews announced that no service will be held next Sunday evening at the local M. E. church, South. The Sunday evening following, however, a special service will be held which he promises will be especially good. In all probability a Y. M. C. A. speaker will be in charge, or, if this plan fails to mature some other able speaker will be present.

Rev. Andrews has procured a Y. M. C. A. worker to conduct a special meeting for him at his Newport church next Sunday.

Returned Home
Mrs. Chas. Griset was down from Beaumont the past week visiting with relatives in this and the Greenville vicinities. She returned home the latter part of the week to put Louise in school Monday when school opened following the week of spring vacation. Mrs. F. P. Walker accompanied her home for a visit and Mr. Walker will go up the latter part of this week if his machine, which is being painted, varnished and equipped with a new Victorian top is out of the garage by that time. Mr. and Mrs. Griset expect to return to their ranch from Beaumont as soon as school closes.

Mrs. Maude Curi, principal of the local school, Miss Zylpha Dismukes of the primary department and Miss Arnold Walker are planning a basket social to be given Friday evening, April 26, at the Japanese hall. The affair is for the benefit of the Junior Red Cross and a program is being prepared as a part of the evening's entertainment. Ice cream and cake will also be on sale during the evening.

On Motor Trip
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bullock spent four days last week on an enjoyable motor trip with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas, of Santa Ana, and sister, Miss Gladys Thomas. The party left Thursday morning, going first to Antelope valley, where Mr. Bullock owns property. From there they went by way of Tehachapi pass to Fresno, spending the first night at Tehachapi and the second at Fresno with Mrs. Bullock's brother, Leslie Thomas, who is employed there. They remained over for a short visit with him, coming as far as Bakersfield upon the return trip Saturday. From Bakersfield they took the Ridge route home and at one point drove within a mile of the snow line. Here they left the machine and walked over to the snow and spent some time reveling in it. This was a novelty to at least two of

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Gisler and family and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Krockenberg formed a motor party to the hill climb at Capistrano.

The Talbert District's dredger having finished the two new drainage canals on which it has been employed near Bolsa is now working north of Mrs. Heil's ranch.

Joins Artillery
R. Courreges has just received word from his son, John Courreges, telling of his enlistment in the Field Artillery and his assignment to a company now in training at Fort McDowell. He enlisted from San Francisco, where he went some time ago expecting to join the navy. He, however, was turned down in this examination on account of having flat feet, so chose the field artillery as being next preferable. He stated he is liking it fine and that plenty of stiff work goes with the training.

J. O. Harper and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harper and J. G. Parsons witnessed the hill climb.

S. E. Talbert moved a house from Huntington Beach Monday to a location one mile east of Wintersburg. It will be occupied by Mexicans.

Mrs. Arnold Walker attended the funeral of Mrs. M. J. Buck at Westminster Tuesday morning and was accompanied by Mrs. A. Stefanzi and Mrs. Thornton of Wintersburg.

Sam Talbert, A. L. Vincent and Brown motored together to the hill climb Sunday.

Talbert Notes
Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Lamb and children attended a birthday surprise given for Mrs. Lamb's aunt at Chino Wednesday of last week. They motored up, returning the same day.

Miss Anna Clark accompanied a party of Wintersburg friends on a trip to Puente Thursday, where they spent the day picnicking in the hills.

Mrs. R. H. Obar of Santa Ana was a Saturday night guest of Mrs. S. E. Talbert and on Sunday they motored to Long Beach where they spent the day. While there they called on Mr. Talbert's father, finding his condition improved.

Mrs. M. A. Nimocks and nephew, John Brewer, went to Capistrano to the hill climb Sunday.

Miss Isabelle Chandler attended the motorcycle test held at Capistrano Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Keiser and son, Vernon Keiser, of Orange.

S. E. Talbert, who had the contract for graveling the road from Meyers' hill to the river bridge, completed the job Saturday evening. Eight carloads of the crushed rock were put on, followed by a coat of sand and dirt.

Ernest Plavan drove down from Peris Friday, remaining at home until Monday morning, when he left upon his return to the ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones of this place, with Mr. and Mrs. Gail Bergey of Huntington Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Los Angeles saw the Capistrano hill climb Sunday, afterward motoring to Arch Beach, where they picnicked the remainder of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. U. H. Plavan were Los Angeles visitors Saturday of last week.

Mrs. L. T. Wells and children accompanied a party of friends to the hill climb last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Borchard were entertained at the home of the latter's brother, A. J. Hauptman, at Westminster on Sunday.

HARPER, April 17.—At last Thursday's meeting of the Newport Heights Co-Operative Association, after the business session a good program and social hour was enjoyed. Miss Mignonne Swales and father, Mr. Swales, Miss Lela Reich, Mrs. Ward and son Voile and Donald Stearns being on the program. Swales was elected delegate to attend the Orange County Chamber of Commerce meetings.

Mrs. Baker will be leader of the Epworth League next Sunday evening; topic, "Seeing Ourselves as Outsiders See Us."

The Harper-Fairview P. T. A. held its April meeting on the 10th inst. at the Harper school house. The treasurer reported that half the purchase price of the piano having been paid by the P. T. A. the contract was taken over by the Harper-Fairview School Board. The piano has filled a long-felt want in the school and all are rejoicing of that it has come to stay. The good terms offered by the Chandler Music Co. and the hearty co-operation of the friends of the school in both districts made the splendid purchase possible.

The secretary gave a review of the last parliamentary drill, and a lesson on the relation of the main notion to amendments. The discussion on health and hygiene introduced by the president brought out many valuable points in regard to the care of growing children, such as fresh air in the sleeping room, correct posture in sitting and standing and the necessity of a properly balanced ration to insure perfect development.

The members present then adjourned to the adjoining room and devoted the rest of the afternoon to the work of the Junior Red Cross. Mrs. W. W. Middleton is president and Mrs. Augusta Bainbridge, secretary.

Farms Meeting
The Fairview Farms Association held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ramsey.

General discussion was participated in in regard to the prospects for oil in this community and it was suggested that association members be very careful who they leased to, being sure they were recognized promoters, and the advisability of dividing the tract into blocks of thirty acres or over, rather than each one leasing his five or ten acres separately. Mr. Huntington gave a talk on the wisest methods of leasing and said it is an established fact that the Standard Oil people are now prepared to start work very soon on a test well. This first well will be drilled on the Irvine property about nine hundred feet east of the Newport boulevard.

Mr. Norris Mellett, delegate to the Orange County Chambers of Commerce, gave a very interesting and full report of the meeting of that organization.

At the conclusion of the business session the program committee took charge, and as Rupert Belton, a member of the association, is soon leaving for Mare Island, having enlisted in the marines, the evening was arranged in honor of him. Mr. George Huntington gave a splendid talk on the conditions of the day and told Mr. Belton if he got to the front to carry the message to our boys and allies alike that this country is surely back of them and will help to its utmost ability.

Mr. H. B. Woodrugh, in his usual pleasing manner, gave a talk of the good "Send me away with a smile" sort which was greatly appreciated.

Mr. Walter Young talked on the purpose of this great struggle which is now occupying most of our thoughts and said that sooner or later "democracy was sure to win out."

Rev. Bostwick's talk brought out the fact that we must not lose our faith in true Christianity, and that right is right and will win regardless of the German interpretation, "might is right."

After a toast given by Mrs. Wilkinson to Mr. Belton, a general social time was enjoyed. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. All departed wishing Robert good luck in his new occupation of being a soldier.

The association will hold a picnic meeting at Whittier, as guests of Mr. McCord, on Thursday, April 25th, and not Friday, as given out at the meeting.

Harper Notes
Mr. Veile, father of Fred Veile, is able to be about again after a week's illness.

Mrs. Mary Gillispie and Miss Virginia visited Monday and Tuesday with friends on the Mesa.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons six young folks of the Harper-Fairview school will play tennis on the school court. Saturday they will play the decision games, and the one showing himself to be the best player will be presented with a new racket given by Mrs. Leonard Swales. Mrs. Swales has given a good bit of time to helping promote outdoor games at our school and it is to be commended for the enthusiasm she has awakened in the young folks. All are welcome and it is hoped a good crowd will turn out to watch these games. Those who will play are Lela Reich, Hazel Mellett, Robert Coyner, Leona Truax, Lester Taylor and Bryant Stearns.

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. Sara Ellis and Mrs. Warren, taking five dogs, went to Orange-county park for a hunt. The dogs treed one bob cat,

"I have used KC BAKING POWDER for a great many years and have yet to experience a failure in baking with it.
"I believe in the "safety first" idea and am sure of best results when I use K C.
"Yes, I have used others, higher priced powders too, but have always gone back to the old reliable.

KC BAKING POWDER
is always sure to give satisfactory results. For good, wholesome foods use KC—insist on getting it.

Beet Prices Pre-War and Present

The average test of all beets delivered to our factory since we began business in 1912 is 19 per cent.

Heretofore the contract price for beets testing 19 per cent was $5.70 per ton.

In our 1918 contract we guarantee for 19 per cent beets a minimum price of $9.50 per ton, with further possible increases based on the price of sugar.

The Guaranteed Minimum Increase over the pre-war contract price for beets testing as above is $3.80 Per Ton or 66 2/3 Per Cent

On this basis the returns per acre would be $38.00 greater than the pre-war contract returns on a 10-ton crop, $57.00 greater on a 15-ton crop, and $76.00 greater on a 20-ton crop.

We believe there is no other staple crop which the grower can contract in advance at a high minimum price, practically guaranteeing a good profit, which, at the same time, permits him to share in any higher prices that might prevail later for the product made from his crop. This is an unusually strong factor of safety.
